(There are 9 categories and lists of actions within each to choose from; participants may also create their own actions)

4. Share your progress and encourage others by posting on our team’s EcoChallenge feed
(Posting comments is optional and comments are seen only by registered team members)

(We can see metrics such as total gallons of water saved, number of hours spent volunteering, number of zero waste meals prepared, and more measures of our impact)

We are excited to see how these small changes in behavior and new choices will collectively make a difference in our environmental footprint, and lead to new and long-lasting habits!
